"This is the only paper between Pittsburgh and Erie that receives the Associated Press Telegrams and Cable Dispatches."

Pittsburgh, Thursday, Nov. 7, 1867.

—Every matter on every page

Varieties.

—There will be a special meeting of the Common Council this evening. All members are requested to be present.

Philip Golding, who stabbed Commodore Goodwin at the Tiotting Park several weeks ago and was committed to jail there, has turned up in Rochester, where he has been arrested for burglary and handed over to the Grand Jury.

To-morrow we shall give a comprehensive statement of the production of oil in the Pennsylvania oil region; the number of new wells being drilled; the amount of oil in iron tanks, wooden storage tanks and bulk boats, and the capacity of iron tanks.

—Mr. Wed. W. Clark, once known as a Pittole "oil prince" among the heavy operators, is at present at one of the principal hotels in Paris, occupying no less than twenty-three rooms. We greatly furnish, for the accommodation of his extensive family, consisting of four persons.

—The Pittsburgh Gazette, certainly one of the ablest, and we believe the oldest paper in Pennsylvania, has been again enlarged by four full columns, making it by considerable odds the largest daily newspaper in the Commonwealth. This is the third time the Gazette has increased its dimensions during the last eighteen months.

—Jacob R. Hinchin, as The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was tried in Lancaster last week. Mr. S. sued for damages for the loss of his wife, who was killed while crossing the railroad in a carriage. The jury returned a verdict for $5,150. At a former trial $2,000 was awarded, but the Company obtained a new trial, and got a worse verdict for doing so.

—The Republican Standing Committee of Bucks county, at their meeting on Saturday, in Reading, adopted a series of resolutions declaiming that the great General who led our armies to victory is "the man of all others under whom the Government can be most splendidly and thoroughly reconstructed and the Union of the State perpetuated."

—On Sunday last, a fire occurred on the farm of Rev. David Kirkpatrick, in Westmoreland county, by which several thousand fence rails were destroyed, leaving his fields entirely open and unprotected. Mr. Kirkpatrick was the father of Mrs. Pollock, who died on Sunday last from the effects of severe burns, resulting from her clothing taking fire.

—A man named Edward Ford was committed to prison under sentence of death for murder in Philadelphia, May 12, 1851, and is still a prisoner, the warrant having never been signed. The Governors of the State, during this period of sixteen years, have refused to pardon him for reasons deemed sufficient, and at the same time have declined to inflict the penalty of the law.

—Still Burton is the name of the interesting little girl who peddles photographs on the rail roads in this section of the State, for the benefit of her blind father. She travels daily, by turns on the Philadelphia & Erie, Erie & Pittsburgh, Atlantic & Great Western, and Oil Creek Rail roads. She states that her largest receipts have been on the Oil Creek railroad, where travelers have long purses and generous impulses.

INVENTIVE PRINTERS.—The Beliefonte editor are inventors as well as writers. Mr. Mack, of the Democratic Watchman, has lately invented a patent galley, for the use of printers, which promises to be a useful and labor-saving article. It does away entirely with the quoins and side stick, and the galley can be set in any position without "pulling" the matter. He has applied for a patent. Mr. Kurtz, of the Central Press, in Beliefonte, has also invented a new galley, on a somewhat different principle, and will take out a patent. It looks by means of a screw at the end, and, when locked up, the type can be turned upside down or placed in any position with impunity. Which of these two galleys will obtain the preference among the printers, will be seen in the future. They are both much needed and useful improvements.

HELD TO BAIL.—Yesterday morning a chisel named Frank Goudspeed, who has been hanging around Petroleum Centre, for the past month or two, was arrested by constable Lewis on a charge of having stolen a steam gauge from the engine house of Mr. J. W. Kunkle, on Benninghoff Hill. Goudspeed was taken before Justice Douglass, at Petroleum Centre, for examination. During the examination, it appeared that he had by some means come into possession of the gauge, and disposed of it to Mr. J. Marion, of Petroleum Centre, for $2. Goudspeed was held to bail in the sum of $500, for his appearance at Franklin on Tuesday evening. The officers are as follows:

President, John H. Walker; First Vice President, Carlton H. Curtis; Second Vice President, G. F. Brevoort; Recording Secretary, A. H. Caughey, E. Sturzwick; Corresponding Secretary, Geo. W. Starr; Treasurer, F. E. Lyon; Executive Committee Chairman—Orange E. Sturzwick; Wm. H. Allen, Asst. Pres.; Dr. George J. H. Bar, Guv.-Genl. of the Pres.; M. J. H. Graham, Col. M. Schlauder; Geo. W. Colton, Andrew Wagat, Henry Estler, Held, Gustavus Kyll, T. J. Walker, Joseph R. Barrett, John A. Janier.

Putting Down the Rebellion.

In his remarkable speech at the opening of the New York State Democratic Convention, Gov. Seymour, had the cool impudence to declare: "We have put down the rebellion." We can fancy the effect of this declaration upon the nerves of some of the Delegates present—men who, if they did not bear arms in behalf of the Southern Confederacy, contributed far more to its aid by words and influence than their single voice could have accomplished in the ranks. To some of the Delegates, this remark must have been an infinite thrust. How their thoughts must have wandered back to the days which they would now fain forget. How, when old, you put down the rebellion, Gov. Seymour? Your record is yet fresh in the memory of your fellow-citizens. The records of the New York riots are yet in existence. In July, 1863, while the blood of loyal men was deluging the streets of New York, Gov. Seymour stood up before the infuriated mob, called them "friends," instructed them to return to their homes, and asserted that the draft "should be stopped." In 1864, while Sherman was pushing his way to the sea, this same Gov. Seymour stood up in the Chicago Convention, and in speaking of the Republican party, uttered the following words, both memorable and infamous:

"They will not let the shedding of blood cease even for a little time, to see if Christian charity or the wisdom of statesmanship may not devise methods to save the nation. * * * While those in power, without remorse, sacrifice the blood and treasure of our people, they will not give up their own positions to the public good. This Union is not held together by military ambition. If our political troubles could be referred to the peaceful arbitrament of the contending parties in the field, our Union would be restored," &c.

This was the way the blatant ex-governor put down the rebellion. During the same year the Democracy of New York, as if in response to the disgraceful speech of Seymour at Chicago, blared upon record the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, as the duty of the American people, that after four years of war to restore the Union, the experience of war, * * * Justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities," &c.

"We have put down the rebellion!" Gov. Seymour, Jeff. Davis, Vandalia, Brooklyn ridge, Wilkes-Barre, &c., "put down the rebellion"! "We—" Seymour and his friends—"the 60,000 Democratic majority in New York on Tuesday—are the men who put down the rebellion! Sublime assurance. Why, perish their Copperhead souls, they are now trying to inaugurate another!"

Election Frauds.

In the election of Mr. Barber Ruffinham in the Kauka elections were generally regaled and controlled by baritons from Missouri and South Carolina. It was only necessary to ascertain the numerical strength of the Free State men in the New England settlements, and then overcome their majorities by stuffing a candle box with pro-slavery ballots. The Democracy of New York seems in a measure to have adopted the same formula, to defeat the voice of the people in the rural districts, and the 60,000 Democratic majority reported from that city exhibits the success of the experiment on Tuesday. The Tribune of Saturday exposed the modus operandi of manufacturing Democratic votes, in the following article:

Captain Petty found, yesterday, one of those naturalization papers which somebody recently advertised to make the James Golden, of 139 Washington street, presented to the Registrar of Voters, office in the Fifth Ward, and desired to be registered. But in reply to the Registrars' interrogations, he said that he had never applied to become a citizen, and that the paper had been handed him by Michael Carty, who had advised him to present it and demand the recording of his name on the registry list. The Registrars, having learned these facts, at once sent Golden to the Leonard Street Police Station, and he is held by Capt. Petty to answer charges of perjury and impersonation of a voter. His paper is presented in the form of the marriage document, and was signed by three婚—of the three former signers, the young man, who is only nineteen years old; another paper was handed to a fellow in the street, and another was given out in a drug store. One at the men says he has been in fifteen months in the country. The lower part of the city, especially the Fourth Ward, is flooded with runners, who have dozens of such papers, and who are on the lookout for any body who will take the risk of trying to register and vote the Democratic ticket. The most recent document, however, that I find in this (Fourth) Ward, where every one knows the result of the election is rapidly becoming more numerous, is on the registry last night eight more names were added to the list.

It is evident from the returns, that this particular was ratified and in publications were utterly overwhelmed by Gov. Seymour's friends! Large bodies of rich and unprincipled men, says the Tribune, go from district to district, and register under different names; naturalization papers are forged; men here but a few years are, by perjury, naturalized, and prominent public men, and sometimes candidates, furnish money, and organize these terrible frauds.

These gigantic and flagitious frauds upon the ballot-box must be checked, or surely will soon reign in New York.

The LIABILITY of EXPRESS COMPANIES.

A case was recently tried in Brooklyn in which an express company contested a claim of about two thousand dollars for the loss of a trunk and its contents. The defense set up was that on the back of the receipt given to the owner of the trunk it was stipulated that the company would not hold itself liable for any jewelry nor for any value above one hundred dollars. Such printed notice, it was contended, was a contract which, when accepted, bound the owner of property entrusted to their care. The Judge held that in the hurry of railroad travel it would be impossible for every person to read the printed matter on the back of such receipts before accepting them, and he therefore instructed the jury to bring in a verdict, which they did, for the full amount claimed. This will be looked upon by the traveling public as a very just decision. If it were otherwise it would be a profitable business for the employees of express companies to lose the trunks of travelers, very few of which contain as little as one hundred dollars' worth of wearing apparel and other necessaries. A lady's silk dress would almost reach that amount in value.

The Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $1,012.70, the whole amount claimed, to which the Judge added an allowance of five per cent.

NEW WELL.—A new well was struck yesterday on the Great Republic Oil Company's tract on Upper Cherry Run. It is located within a few rods of the old Benton well. The best of Bristol Board used at the following rates: $6 for $1.00, $6 for $1.50, $10 for $2.00. Enclosed stamp for samples.
